

Louisiana has been a leading state for Aviation & Aerospace since the birth of the industry. Home to NASA's Michoud Assembly Facility, one of the largest manufacturing facilities in the world, Louisiana is paving the way for space exploration. Louisiana is also positioned as an international leader in cybersecurity capabilities, working through partnerships that align the unique resources of the state with 2-year and 4-year education institutions and private sector organizations. Globally recognized companies have also established in the state and are benefiting from the sizeable workforce and strong talent pipeline that meets industry demands. Louisiana's investments in workforce training programs and higher education assures future workforce demands are met as well, ensuring companies in Louisiana's Aviation & Aerospace Industry will continue to experience growth and success.

LOUISIANA

INDUSTRY GROWTH PROFILE

The Louisiana region has a 1.0% growth rate in the Aviation & Aerospace Industry the last 5 years, compared to 0.0% in the nation.

1.0%
5 YEAR GROWTH

7.3%
5 YEAR INCREASE

There has been a 7.3% increase in the growth rate of Aviation, Space & Aerospace establishments from 2015 to 2020.

TOP INDUSTRIES 10-YEAR GROWTH

27.3%

Aircraft Manufacturing

Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans provides vital support to NASA's exploration and discovery missions and employs approximately 3,500 people. With 2.2 million square feet of manufacturing space, Michoud is one of the largest manufacturing facilities in the world.

TALENT PIPELINE //

7,000

Louisiana is home to nearly 7,000 aerospace-related employees.

10 PROGRAMS

Louisiana has 10 postsecondary programs linked to Aviation, Space & Aerospace at educational institutions including Louisiana State University, Grambling State University, University of Louisiana and Louisiana Tech University.

CYBERSPACE

The Center for Secure Cyberspace is a collaboration between Louisiana Tech University and Louisiana State University created to support federal, state and private sector cyberspace security needs.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW //

7,000+

Aerospace-Related Employees

$73,028

Average Wage in the Aviation, Space & Aerospace Industry

293

Aviation, Space & Aerospace Establishments

COMPANIES THAT HAVE A PRESENCE IN LOUISIANA

- NASA

- Boeing

- Airbus

- Lockheed Aviation Services

- Northrop Grumman

- Metro Aviation